

BRAZILIAN REVOLUTION

The Rebel Fleet Still Threatening Bombardment, with Peace Negotiations Pending.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY LIVES LOST.

A Dynamite Bomb is Exploded in Front of a Boarding House in San Francisco, Cal., with Terrible Results.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—A private cable, dated Rio de Janeiro, says affairs at the Brazilian capital are unchanged. The rebel fleet is still threatening bombardment and negotiations are yet progressing. Business has picked up somewhat. It is said to be not quite impossible that a peace arrangement may be patched up. In this case it will be mainly due to the untiring efforts of the representatives of foreign powers and foreign warships at Rio. Failing in patching up peace very shortly the insurgents repeat the announcement that they will lay Rio in ashes. President Peixoto does not increase in popularity with the masses and is said to be going about surrounded by a strong bodyguard. In constant dread of assassination. It is believed the basis of peace and negotiation is the resignation of the president and government and free pardon to the insurgents engaged in the revolt. The insurgents still blockade Santos.

A Terrible Encounter.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 23.—At Kingsbury, Ind., a station on the Wabash railroad sixty miles east of Chicago, the second section of west-bound passenger train No. 55, from Detroit to Chicago, ran into east-bound freight train No. 92, standing on the siding, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, wrecking both engines and the coaches and sleeper of the passenger train. Relief trains were started immediately for the scene of the wreck, taking physicians. It is reported that ten persons have been taken out dead. Engineer Green and Conductor Coulter of the passenger train being among the killed. The engines of the freight train is reported injured. Everything is being done to make the injured comfortable at neighboring farm-houses. The accident was caused by the brakeman of the freight train turning the switch to let the freight train out of the siding after the first section of the passenger train had passed and just before the arrival of the second section. Twelve dead bodies have so far been taken from the wreck, and it is believed there are still eighteen or twenty bodies to be removed. Twenty others are injured more or less.

Bomb Explosion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 25.—The most hideous crime in the annals of the city, resulting from a long feud between union and non-union sailors, was perpetrated yesterday morning. Shortly after midnight the southern part of the city was shaken by a terrific explosion. A dynamite bomb had been fired in front of a waterfront boarding-house filled with non-union sailors. The front of the building was blown to atoms. Six inmates were horribly mangled. Two were instantly killed and the others may die. By whom the bomb was fired is not definitely known, but the owners directly charge the deadly deed upon some members of the Seamen's union.

Row at Ferry.

GUTHRIE, Okla., Sept. 23.—A small size riot occurred at Perry Thursday night and yesterday. It was necessary to send for the military to preserve order, as there are many conflicts between rival lot elements and thieves and thugs are robbing the people right and left. Oscar Cunningham of Cincinnati had his leg cut off by the cars. John Wilson was accidentally shot in the body, and Harry Dix badly cut on the head in a row. Fifteen miles east of Perry a man named Harrison was fatally shot in a controversy over a claim.

Did Not Succeed.

CENTRALIA, Ill., Sept. 22.—There was an attempted train robbery yesterday morning at 2 o'clock at the coal chute south of Centralia. The south-bound Illinois Central limited, leaving Chicago at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and due at New Orleans at 8:15 p. m., arrived at this point two hours later. After reaching the train it was about to start when three men ordered the train to stop. Eugene Young and the fireman refused to obey when the robbers opened fire, wounding Young seriously in two places. The fireman also received two wounds. The express car was then attacked, but the messenger and conductor of the train gallantly resisted, assisted by a passenger named Sanders, an old brakeman of Duquoin, whose shotgun did splendid service, wounding one robber fatally. The messenger and conductor were both slightly wounded. The gang was at length broken off and disappeared in the darkness. The express car door was perforated with bullets, but the robbers failed to secure any booty. It is said that there were fully $50,000 aboard. The wounded robber was with difficulty saved from lynching, but cooler counsel prevailed and he was jailed. It is now said he is known as Daniel Jones. He carries a card from the Order of Railway Trainmen issued by one of the Chicago lodges, and he also has a switchman's card from the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe at Kansas City. Searching parties are now scouring the country for others. The wounded bandit in custody was threatened with lynching unless he made a full confession. He gave the names of the members of the gang as O'Dwyer, Harding and Nichols. O'Dwyer was arrested yesterday morning.

The Way They All Go.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 21.—Early yesterday morning Policemen Rowan and Fitzmorris tried to arrest Chick McMullen, one of the most notorious crooks in the west, and his mistress, Nellie Foley, equally notorious. McMullen drew a pistol and began firing at the officers. The latter also drew their weapons, and a regular fusillade ensued. When the smoke cleared it was found that Rowan had been shot in the left groin. He will probably die. Fitzmorris received two bullets in the thigh, while a bullet pierced McMullen's back, inflicting a fatal wound. The dying desperado finding his race was run, turned suddenly penitent and called for a priest, who administered the scant consolation possible under the circumstances. McMullen was creating a disturbance in front of a saloon on the west side when the shooting occurred.

A London Tragedy.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—A sensational tragedy has occurred in this city, the result of which is the death of three persons, one a woman. The others were men, supposed to be rivals for the friendship of a woman, but this is mere conjecture as the three died almost instantly. Daisy Montague, a ballet girl, left a theatre at 1 o'clock this morning for her home. She was joined by a man, and when near King's Cross they were stopped by a second man. Just what passed between the three is not known. They talked in loud and angry tones and attracted the attention of passersby. Suddenly one of the men pulled a revolver and shot the woman, killing her instantly. He then shot the other man dead and afterwards himself.

Monarchy Will Win.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—An important dispatch is said to have been received in this city yesterday from Rio de Janeiro. The dispatch says the censorship of the press has been slightly relaxed, and local passages are now permitted to be transmitted if couched in language which does not arouse the suspicions of the government officials charged with the censorship of all such matter. The dispatch also adds that Santos is expected every hour to declare itself in favor of the insurgents. It is added that the position of President Peixoto is desperate and no doubt is entertained in Rio of the success of the revolution. It is claimed, is almost certain to be followed by the restoration of the monarchy.

Attacked by Catholics.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 25.—The American Protective association held a meeting last night and at its close as the members were leaving the hall they were attacked by a crowd of Catholics. Before police interference several of each side were slightly injured. The police finally dispersed the crowds, making several arrests, the two crowds being about equally represented in wagons that drove to the police station.

ST. LOUIS CARNIVAL.

IMMENSE CROWDS FLOCKING TO THE WESTERN CITY.

Marked Success of the Tenth Annual Exposition—The World's Greatest Bazaar Engaged—Gorgeous Street Illuminations.

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—The passenger trains running into St. Louis from all directions are crowded with visitors to the Annual Exposition, which commenced on Sept. 1 and will continue until Oct. 21. The expressions of delight are universal, and the attractions are even more numerous and irresistible than in the past seasons. The street illuminations consist of 75,000 electric and gas lights, which are used to the best advantage, and the downtown streets present an appearance of dazzling magnificence. There are twelve electric arches, or panoramas, each illuminated by upward of 1,000 incandescent lights, and these are a never failing source of attraction to the tens of thousands of people who throng the streets on illumination nights. One of the most remarkable triumphs of art over electricity is the electric balletin, which proclaims words of welcome in letters of fire to the visitors, special honor being paid to the visitors of the day.

Special illuminations are announced for Sept. 25 and 26, and for Oct. 2, 3, 12 and 13. On these days exceptionally low rates, either one fare for the round trip or one fare plus 25, can be obtained on all railroads running through this state. The rates have also been reduced very liberally for every day until the close of the Exposition on Oct. 21, with extra reductions during Fair week, Oct. 2 to 7. The success of the tenth annual exposition is a matter of congratulation on every hand. The exhibits are varied and beautiful, the art galleries are conspicuous for the excellence of the paintings and the care bestowed on the selections, the electrical and mechanical displays are complete and instructive, and the fish aquariums are stocked with upwards of 300 representative denizens of western waters. Every effort has been made to ensure the comfort of guests, a fact which every visitor recognizes.

As usual the musical entertainment is the very best that money can provide. Sousa's grand concert band, conceded by all to be the best band in America if not in the world, gives four concerts daily, almost every number at each concert being enthusiastically endorsed. Mr. Sousa, described by the musical press as the greatest living bandmaster, is assisted by soloists of world wide reputation including Madame Scalchi, the peerless contralto; Sig. Campanelli, the great baritone; Mr. Harbach, one of the best tenors living; Miss Inez Carusi, the celebrated harpist, and others of almost equal celebrity.

The seats in the enormous music hall are all unreserved and the nominal admission fee of 25 cents entitles the visitor to all the attractions, including the concerts. It is this exceptional liberality on the part of the management that is insuring the Exposition a success of which every western and southern man is proud.

HE GOT THE HAIR.

The Getting a Wig Was a Prerequisite to Marriage.

"I've called to get that wig I ordered," said a rustic-looking individual, to the lady clerk at the hair store. "Here's the receipt for the $2.50 deposit I made on it," said he, as the young lady handed over the wig for the rustic's inspection. Mr. Schmidt immediately pulled off his hat and revealed a head wonderfully conspicuous for its lack of locks, and proceeded to try on the wig before the glass. "By gum," said he, "Mary won't know me, and won't she be surprised! Yes," said Schmidt to an inquiry of the clerk, who was amusing herself watching the antics of the man as he paced to and fro before the glass, "I was to have been married last month, but Mary she went plumb back on me 'cause another feller in our neighborhood what had plenty of hair on his head wanted to marry her, but she said she would give me sixty days to git hair on my head somehow and if I succeeded we would git married all right, 'cause she liked me better than the feller with hair anyhow. Gosh! that's the handsomest wig I ever did see," said he, with renewed emphasis. "Just wait a minute till I call Aunt Jennie's boy Charley in to see how it looks."

Mr. Schmidt proceeded toward the door, hat in hand and wig on head, while the lady clerk turned to wait on another customer. He stepped out of the door and disappeared in the crowd. Five minutes later his departure was noticed and a policeman called, but the man and $20 wig were gone.
